

The active chair with an attitude

Skateboarding is a way of life. It is a form of self-expression that allows you to live freely in your spaces.

When you skate, you are acting independently in space: perceiving the movements in your trajectory, maintaining balance and orientation.

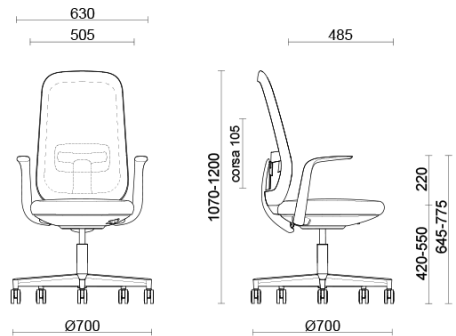

"Skate" is an object that implies motility, an attitude that is developed both physically and mentally.

We have imagined a seat that is well-suited to changes in posture. It is active and dynamic, with notable functional features to meet the needs of the office environment.
